

PBOT ADA Title II Public Right of Way Transition Plan 5-Year Update SE Uplift Presentation

21 September 2026

Lisa Strader
PBOT ADA Coordinator

What is a Transition Plan & Who Has to Have One?

- State and local governments with 50 or more employees have to have one.
- It identifies how that entity will make everything it is responsible for, accessible to everyone who uses it.
- PBOT was part of the City of Portland's transition plan until 2021.

2021

CITY OF PORTLAND
BUREAU OF TRANSPORTATION

ADA Title II Public Right-of-Way Transition Plan Update

Pedestrians entering a crosswalk.

Pedestrians using the sidewalk.

A person sits on a bench.

JULY 21, 2021
FINAL PLAN ADOPTED BY COUNCIL
RESOLUTION 37544

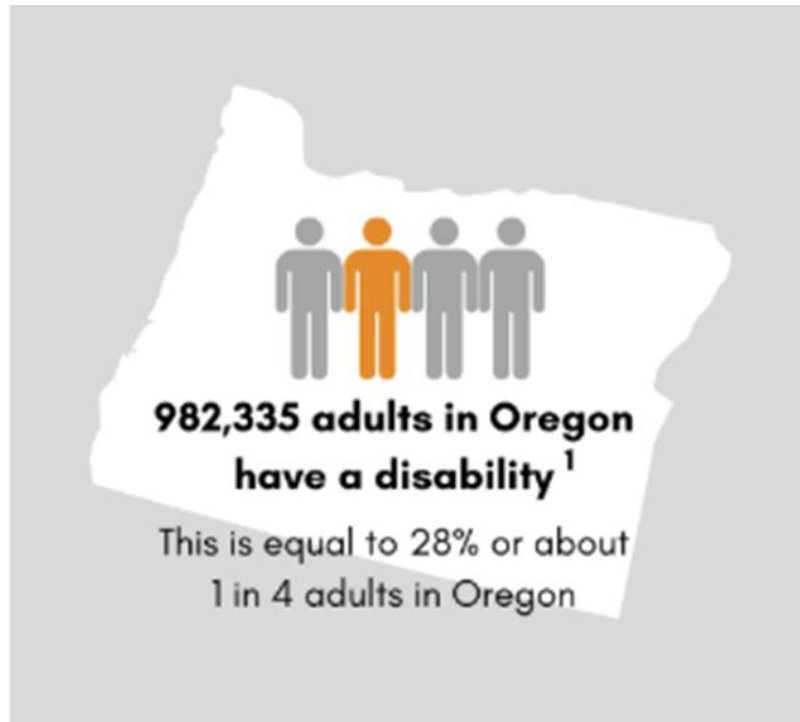

2024

Annual Report

ADA Title II
Public Right-of-Way
Transition Plan Update

PBOT is updating its ADA Title II Transition Plan 5 years after originally adopted.

Disability in the US & Oregon

- 2022 Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance System (BRFSS) Data
- <https://www.cdc.gov/dhds/impacts/index.html>

Mobility

Is the most common type of disability.

PBOT is committed to provide full program and transportation system access to all users.

Elements of a Transition Plan

- Pedestrian Signal
- Sidewalks
- Transit Stops
- Curb Ramps
- Accessible Parking
- Crosswalks
- Full Program Access

What Is Full Program Access?

Buildings
Documents & Forms
Transportation System
Communications
Employment
Meetings
Website

Temporary Street
Use Permits Still Require Accessibility

PBOT has been removing barriers via many programs

- Existing Work
- Maintenance
- Requests
- Utility and Developer Work
- Collaboration
- Policy changes
- Education of Staff

Before and After
Sidewalk
Repair

Before and After Curb
Ramps

Requests

- Curb ramps
- Audible pedestrian signals
- Accessible parking
- Pedestrian signal timing adjustments
- Barrier removals
- Accommodation requests

Outreach

There is still work to do & the update needs input.

- Listening Session on 9/22
- Your comments through 9/25
- Survey open through 9/25
- PBOT adopts update November
- Share w/ City Council & Public in December

Questions

Lisa.Strader@PortlandOregon.gov
503-823-5703